Pan-American Week Activities End Tonight With Show, Dance

Pan-American Week activities will come to a close tonight after a week of films, displays, exhibits, entertainment and an address given Wednesday by Dr. J. Howard Craven.

The presentation of a comedy and variety show will climax the activities tonight in Newman Hall, given by Circolo Castellano, Spanish club, according to Pete Cortez, club president.

The comedy entitled "No Fumadores" will precede the variety show. It was written by Jacinto Benavente and is under the direction of Reed Scott. Cast of characters include Nancy Capas, senora; Dorothy Fernandez, senorita; Jesse Perez, caballero; and Al Mendabal, revisor.

Dancers are Richard Camarena and Connie Martinez. Richard Lopez will sing a number of songs and Stan Flores will present a banjo combo as part of the variety.

The celebration will come to close with a dance to be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in Newman Hall. Latin American exhibits will be displayed today, for the last time, by the Natural Science and Home Economics departments and by the college library.

Arrangements for the week's activities were made by the Pan-American Program Committee of the Social Science Department, consisting of Miss Clara Hinz, Mrs. Mildred Winters, Edward J. Rogers, Dr. Edwin Flittie and Dr. Leonard Weiss.

Pan-American Day, in accordance with the week's activities, commemorated the First International Conference of American States, held in Washington D. C. in 1890. It was a landmark in United States-Latin American relations. A resolution was adopted at this first meeting which resulted in the creation of an organization which later became known as the Pan American Union.

Guild Schedules Radio Tryouts

Tryouts will be held Monday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 158 of the Music Building for "My Cousins on Sunday," according to the SJS Radio and Television Guild. The production is a radio play based on the life, poetry and plays of Garcia Lorch.

Fair, Gentle Winds

The weatherman, after some thought, and a concerned glance at the heavy clouds, cautiously extended the prediction that the Santa Clara Valley would be fair today with temperatures ranging between 64-69. Gentle winds are expected to accompany the sun.

San Jose State Delegate Trio Attends AWS Western Regional Conference

"We have reached the foothills, the mountains lie ahead," is the motto of this year's Western Regional Intercollegiate Associated Women Students Convention, held at Colorado A and M College.

The convention is now in its second day. It started yesterday and will extend until Sunday. Three students from SJS left last Wednesday night for the event. Pat Cravan, Kay von Tillow and Ann Dutton, AWS president, all will take part in the various activities and workshops.

A party for the delegates, convention pictures, various skits, workshops, a swimming party, an honorary breakfast, speakers and a banquet with entertainment are included in the four-day meeting.

Famous Restaurateur Mardikian Speaks Today

George Magar Mardikian, restaurateur, author, farmer, industrialist, and adviser to the government will speak this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the Concert Hall of the Music Building. He will speak on "Song of America," the title of his forthcoming autobiography.

President John T. Wahlquist will introduce him. He and Mardikian are personal friends, according to Dean Joe H. West.

Mardikian is a naturalized citizen of the United States, coming here in 1922 from Armenia to escape imprisonment by the Bolsheviks for his activities in the Armenian Boy Scout program. He was originally a restaurant worker here, and then a ship's steward.

In ten years he had opened the Omar Khayyam's restaurants in Fresno and San Francisco, and had founded the Chestnut Tree chain of sandwich shops.

Before fleeing Armenia, he had helped Herbert Hoover in Near East food relief, and at 20 had helped organize refugee camps for children suffering in the war between Russia and Turkey. He has been graduated from Central College in Constantinople.

He worked for the United States in the last three wars, and while in World War Two, founded and served as president of the American National Committee to Aid Homeless Armenians.

Following the end of the Korean war, he again served with Hoover on organization of the executive branch of the government. He has received many commendations from top army brass, and is a recipient of the Presidential Medal of Honor for his Korean activities.

He is considered a dynamic speaker, and will talk here again at the Senior Banquet in June.

Mardikian's exploits made him the subject of a "Reader's Digest" magazine article in 1952, and in the past year he has published an article on food in "Collier's" magazine, and his philosophy of life in the "Word to Live By" column of "This Week" magazine.

The Blood Center closes at 5 p.m. and chairman Thomas asks that all students donating do so before that time.

Greek donations today will count toward the permanent trophy which will be awarded tomorrow night when Greek Week ends.

Librarians Slate Meet On Campus

Eight hundred students and faculty members from Northern California senior high, junior high and elementary schools will attend the second annual conference of the Student Library Association of Northern California at SJS tomorrow.

SJS's Department of Librarianship, headed by Miss Dora Smith, will be the official host at the conference, which will bring delegates from Sacramento, Fresno, Stockton, Modesto, and other Northern California cities.

Guest speakers for the conference include Mrs. Carmen Zimmerman, California state librarian, and Mrs. Marion Garthwaite, noted children's librarian.

Mrs. Garthwaite is children's librarian for the San Mateo County Library and is the author of three books about juveniles. Her fourth book will be published this year as a Literary Guild selection.

SJS President John T. Wahlquist will welcome the delegates at 10 a.m. in Morris Dailey Auditorium. Miss Jessie Boyd, director of libraries in Oakland, will address the conference following President Wahlquist.

Student assistants in audio-visual centers also will be in attendance. They will meet in Room 13 with Dr. Richard Lewis, head of the SJS audio-visual center.

The nomination and election of new officers by student library assistants during the conference will be under the direction of Miss Esther Firth, Carlmont school librarian and chairman of the meeting; Miss Muriel Carson, Camden High School librarian; and Miss Edith Titcomb, Woodrow Wilson school librarian.

Other speakers at the conference will be Miss Barbara Bent, SJS education librarian, and Mrs. Virginia Taylor, children's librarian at the San Jose City Library.

Seniors Choose Band for Ball

Approximately three-fourths of the 500 seniors attending Senior Briefing yesterday in Morris Dailey Auditorium voted in favor of obtaining the services of Freddy Martin's orchestra for the Senior Ball, according to James F. Jacobs, Senior Class adviser.

Officials Mention Chance Of Multi-Storied Buildings

The possibility that San Jose State College virtually will grow "up" was suggested yesterday when President John T. Wahlquist spoke to the Senior Briefing Assembly.

Dr. Wahlquist mentioned future buildings in terms of "possibly seven or eight stories high," and again as "perhaps five or six floors."

The president said that state officials in Sacramento have ventured to mention the possibility

Dance Tomorrow Night Will Close Greek Week

Panhellenic and Inter-Fraternity Councils will hold workshops tomorrow morning to discuss problems common to all Greek organizations and to evaluate the first annual "Greek Week," which closes tomorrow evening with a dance at the Hawaiian Gardens.

Registration for Panhellenic Workshop will take place outside of the Concert Hall from 8:30 until 9 a.m. A general session will be held from 9 until 10 a.m. in the Concert Hall.

Special meetings will be conducted for sorority officers from 10 a.m. until 12 noon. House presidents will meet in Room 21.

Other meetings will be held for pledge trainers, Room 21; panhellenic representatives, Room 117; treasurers, Room 127; house managers, Room 39; scholarship chairmen, Room 139; standards chairmen, Room 25; activities chairmen, Room 33.

Rush chairmen, Room 20; philanthropy chairman, Room 129; junior panhellenic representatives, Room 7; and social chairmen, Room 119.

IFC discussions will be held at the various fraternity houses during the morning. Fraternity representatives have been assigned to attend special meetings.

A meeting for both fraternity and sorority presidents will be held at the Alpha Tau Omega house at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

"Greek Week" will close with an all-Greek dance at the Hawaiian Gardens Saturday night at 9 o'clock. Bob Lasley's band will play for the event.

One-Act Operas Play to Full House

"The Medium" and "The Telephone," one-act operas by Gian-Carlo Menotti, played to a full house in the College Theater last night. The operas, presented by the Music and Drama Departments of SJS, are scheduled to be repeated tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock.

Carole Rossi and Robert Gibbs played the lead roles in "The Telephone," a comedy concerning two young lovers who attempt to solve the problem of a marriage proposal over a telephone.

"The Medium," of a more serious nature, deals with the motives of frustration, fear and anger, as expressed by a medium after a seance. The lead role is sung by Miss Maurine Thompson, associate professor of music. Students in supporting roles are Jane Ann Fritz, Robert Montilla, Barbara Wells, Richard Styles, Bonnie Boland and Marilynne Price.

W. Gibson Walters, associate professor of music, is conductor of the program, and John Kerr, associate professor of drama, is directing the staging.

Debators Discuss Foreign Problem

Since no winners were officially announced at the international debate last night, members of the audience were allowed to make their own choices as to which side presented the most convincing argument on the topic of "The Rise of Nationalism in Africa and the Middle East."

The debate which was held in the Concert Hall, featured two SJS and two Scandinavian students. The affirmative was upheld by Edith Alecock of SJS and Harald Uncas Serner, a graduate of the University of Stockholm, who declared that the rise of nationalism would assure Africa and the Middle East a real independence that would help them to gain political maturity.

Hugh Roberts, of SJS, and Poul J. Svanholm, of the University of Copenhagen, who took the negative, maintained that nationalism as we know it today, is not synonymous with democracy and that it does not aid citizens of Africa and the Middle East in obtaining individual liberties and freedoms.

Roberts and Svanholm contended that the supreme power of nationalism is in the state and that nationalism works for the suppression, rather than the liberation, of the individual.

PRESIDENT WAHLQUIST
Outlines the Future

Dr. Adler To Speak On Science Field

Dr. Mortimer J. Adler will speak on "The Questions Science Cannot Answer" Thursday at 8 p.m. in Morris Dailey Auditorium. He is director of the Institute of Philosophical Research in San Francisco and a controversial figure in biological and educational circles.

At Chicago in 1951, he was known as "The activity that supplanted football," to quote the June 4 issue of "Time Magazine." He was called so following his attack on Darwin's theory of the evolution of man, an attack that caused his packed-house audience to question him for an hour after the speech.

He is noted for being one of the active supporters of the Great Books Movement, a movement he helped to launch while teaching philosophy of law at the University of Chicago.

The movement concerns itself with replacing the current college educational methods with a curriculum limited to having students study 100 of the greatest books ever written. He feels this scheme would improve students intellectually over modern day methods, and also contribute more to their moral well-being.

Dr. Adler was well received when he spoke here last year, sponsored by Kappa Delta Phi, national honorary society in the field of education. This year he is being sponsored jointly by three campus honorary societies, Phi Kappa Phi, the Key Club and Sigma Xi, and also by the College Lecture Committee.

Martin Announces Senior Day Program

A complete schedule of events to take place at Tuesday's Senior Visitation day has been released by Robert S. Martin, associate dean of students, who is heading the program.

More than 1000 seniors from high schools in Santa Clara County will gather at Morris Dailey Auditorium at 9:45 a.m. Presiding over the assembly will be Dr. O. S. Hubbard, county superintendent of schools.

Greetings from Dr. John T. Wahlquist, president of SJS, and Don Hubbard, ASB president, will follow. Miss Viola Palmer, admissions officer, will explain admission requirements and procedures.

A complete campus tour will follow at 10:20 a.m. During this time, counselors accompanying the students will meet with deans and officers of the college to discuss problems confronting high school seniors and their advisers.

Visits to departments of major interest will be held at 11:30 a.m.

At 12:30 p.m. the students will assemble for lunch on the lawn in front of the Women's Gym.

A final assembly will be held at 1 p.m. in the auditorium. Dean Martin will speak on housing, part-time employment, Orientation Week and the financial aid program. Dr. Stanley C. Benz, dean of students, will talk briefly on curricular and extra-curricular activities at SJS.

These are to be classroom buildings and Men's P.E. facilities.

As the president continued to outline the future of the college, he noted plans for a men's and a women's residence hall, each to hold 700 students.

The men's residence hall is mapped to go on the south east corner of Ninth and San Carlos Streets. The women's hall is scheduled for the north east corner of Seventh and San Carlos Streets.

LARGE EXPANSION

In all, these facilities are to cover six and one-half blocks. The purchase of this property has been tentatively marked for the 1957-58 school year at a cost of $2,500,000. These figures are set forth in the proposed five year capital outlay program for state colleges adopted by the California State Board of Education in March.

Other buildings scheduled to be begun in the next year or so are a classroom building and an administration building to be constructed on the drill field area at the corner of Seventh and San Fernando Streets, and a cafeteria and an art building, to be built in the present parking lot areas.

Veterans' Adviser To Visit Campus

J. E. Kinney, California veterans' adviser, will be in the accounting office, Room 34, April 24, from 10 a.m. until 12 noon.

Kinney will discuss with veterans any problems they may have concerning the Cal Vet education benefits program.

Catholic Group Schedules Dance

Ice cream sundaes on a do-it-yourself basis will be one feature of the Newman Club Ice Cream social party and dance to be held tomorrow in Newman Hall at 8 p.m., according to Jack Pa-tack, social chairman.

Everyone is invited to 79 S. 5th St. for the occasion, provided they are properly costumed as little boys and girls. Admission will be $35 stag, and $50 per couple.

Panhellenic, IFC Coordinate Groups for Greek Activities

Sororities Choose Representatives

Panhellenic Council, one of "Greek Week's" sponsors, is the group which coordinates the 12 sororities on campus, and which serves to foster good relationships among the sororities and individual girls.

Present officers for the group are Sandra Singer, Alpha Omicron Pi, president; Elaine Chial, Gamma Phi Beta, vice president and rushing chairman; Nancy Burke, Kappa Kappa Gamma, recording and corresponding secretary and treasurer; Jeanne Gibbs, Delta Gamma, social chairman, Jody Yacher, Kappa Alpha Theta, publicity chairman and Hazel Dai-chelbohrer, Chi Omega, junior Panhellenic.

OFFICERS ROTATE
Officers rotate among the houses with terms lasting one year. Unless more sororities are established, every house will have a president once in 12 years.

In addition, each house chooses a senior and junior representative to the council. The senior member alone may vote, while the role of the junior member is to learn the workings of the group. She usually rises to full status the next year.

The advent of sororities on campus for the first time in 1948 saw the birth of the local Panhellenic Council as well. Miss Helen Dimmick, associate dean of students, has been adviser since they organized in October of 1948.

According to Miss Singer, "Without Miss Dimmick's help, we would not have accomplished much. She has been the backbone of Panhellenic."

VARIED PROJECTS
Currently Panhellenic is working on the rush contract for 1956-57. The girls also are taking part in Civil Defense and the Disaster Control directed by Dr. Mary Wiley. Each house has its own warden.

As a philanthropy project, Panhellenic recently shipped six boxes of books to the University of Korea to replace those lost during the recent conflict. The group also sponsors a scholarship which is presented to a woman student in the fine arts department at the Recognition Banquet in the spring.

SANDRA SINGER

Junior Panhellenic, a branch of the main group, was newly organized last semester. One pledge and one initiate from each sorority are chosen to belong to the group. Miss Dimmick also is adviser to this group.

The girls learn about Panhellenic's operations and model their own activities on a smaller scale. They have philanthropic projects and social affairs. At present they are planning a volleyball tournament for all pledges.

Panhellenic's annual workshop is another of its projects. It will culminate the discussion periods of Greek Week tomorrow morning.

Council Sponsors Spring, Winter Fetes

BILL McCOLLAM
... IFC Prexy

Coordination and cooperation between fraternities at San Jose State is the main objective of the Inter Fraternity Council. Composed of the fraternity presidents and one senior member of each house, the council passes on issues of general importance to all fraternities.

Robert S. Martin, associate dean of students, is adviser to the council and assists in coordinating policies of the fraternities and council with those of the college.

President of the council is Bill McCollam, past president of Alpha Tau Omega. Vice president Owen Babcock, Sigma Nu, assists McCollam in his duties. Ken Grundhauser, Phi Sigma Kappa, is treasurer and John Howard, Theta Xi, serves as secretary.

The council sponsors a winter formal each year and a spring dance. The spring dance will be held tomorrow night in conjunction with Panhellenic.

A full year of fraternity sports is handled by the IFC athletic chairman, Spring Sing and the Achievement Dinner for fraternities are activities planned for May.

Bob Rush, Kappa Alpha, is athletic chairman. He has the difficult job of scheduling all tournaments and fraternity leagues.

Peter Tweedt, ATO, serves as scholarship chairman. It was during his first semester as chairman that the all-fraternity average rose above the all-men's average in scholarship. Clark Biggs, Delta Upsilon, is social chairman, and Sam Statler, SAE, heads publicity.

What's Doing

By DON OSBORNE

A new and unique spot recently opened in the city that should have a long life. Much like the Hungry "I" and the Purple Onion, this place had a comparatively quiet birth, but is now beginning to make its impression on the San Francisco scene. Its name is the Jazz Cellar and is located at 576 Green St. near Columbus.

The main feature of the Cellar is of course its jazz. This is embodied in a quartet composed of Jack Minger, Will Carlson, Sonny Wayne and Bill Wiesjahn. But more than this is the atmosphere and price.

The atmosphere is arty, or, if you prefer, Bohemian. Beards are part of the bartender's uniform, mobiles dangle from the ceiling, modern art decorates the wall and the place could be considered a "hole." And—the price is right.

What could be more appropriate in such a setting than a good swinging jazz band?

A short man who plays big music is still at the Blackhawk. His name is Shorty Rogers and he is undoubtedly one of the biggest lights in modern jazz. Shorty recently gained much acclaim for his appearance in "The Man with the Golden Arm" for which he helped to compose much of the background music. Supporting Shorty are his Giants, composed of Jimmy Guiffre, sax; Ralph Pena, bass; Gary Frommer, drums; and Walter Norris, piano.

At Facks one of America's more colorful singers is now appearing. It's Nellie Lutcher who has one of the most unique styles of any singer in a long time. It tends to become boring after three or four numbers but it is unique.

After her Jazz a la Carte stint, honey voiced Sarah Vaughan will open at the Macumba Tuesday, April 17. Filling in the gap until she appears is Roy Milton, who opens tonight.

Borghesani on Hill Against Potent Foe

Seeking to revenge an earlier loss, the Spartan baseball club plays host to potent California today at 3:15 p.m. The series concludes with a 3-15 game at Berkeley tomorrow.

Lefty Bob Borghesani (3-1) will start on the mound for the local horsehiders as they go after their 11th win of the season. Ex-San Jose prep star Doug Weiss (3-3) will start for the Bears.

The Spartan team, who lost an 8-1 game to Cal in its second game of the year, have come a long ways since then, and are primed to upset the Bears.

Cal comes into today's game with an impressive 15-4 record that has seen them play the best in the rough CIBA loop. The Berkeley nine owns wins over USC, UCLA and Fresno State in previous games.

Pacing the Cal attack will be Warren Lavorel (382), Mike Weldon (402) and Al Reynolds (344).

The Spartans will counter with catcher Jerry Clifford (407), shortstop Bill Rahming (357), outfielder Dick Roza and the long distance hitting of Chuck Reynolds (327). Roza, who has recently been inserted into the right field spot, continues his sensational hitting, getting seven hits for 13 times at bat for a .538 batting mark.

Reynolds already this season has cracked a Spartan record by driving out six homers. He also leads the club in runs batted in with 18. Clifford and Rahming have shown power at the plate with the Spartan catcher slugging four homers, and Rahming getting nine doubles.

The SJS team, currently riding a four-game winning streak, goes in to today's game with a 10-7 season mark. The Spartans started the year slowly, got hot and won five straight, and then suffered a disastrous road trip, dropping tilts to Fresno State, USC and UCLA.

Since returning from the Southland, however, the San Joseans haven't been beaten. They defeated San Francisco 9-7, College of Pacific 24-1 and 9-4, and Stanford, 3-2, in their biggest victory of the season.

Tuck Halsey (5-2) will go for the Spartan nine in tomorrow's game and will be opposed by Bear ace, Gene Stang (5-1).

Green Squad Nips Vets in Big Upset
The Green Squad became the sole unbeaten team in the Independent Basketball League by upsetting the Sparvets, 30-26, Wednesday night in Spartan Gym.

Alpha Tau Omega and Theta Chi remained tied for the top spot in the Fraternity League with 10-1 records by scoring easy victories over Delta Upsilon and Phi Sigma Kappa last night.

Sparked by the 10 point efforts of Charlie Hardy and Hal Boutte, the Green Squad moved to a five point halftime lead and then held on against the favored Vets. The win was the 10th in a row for the Art Powell coach cagers compared to 11-1 for the defeated Sparvets.

Max Voshall Loses Split Decision

Julian Scores Victory; Rubine Is Outpointed

MADISON, WIS. — Max Voshall, San Jose State's defending National Collegiate 165-pound boxing champion, lost a split decision to George Sissini of Michigan State last night in the quarter-finals of the 19th annual NCAA tournament in Madison, Wis.

However Al Julian came through for the Spartans as he advanced to the semi-finals by outpointing Ulysses T. Brown of Virginia in the 139-pound division. San Jose's only other entry to see action yesterday Stu Rubine dropped a close decision to Robert Rigolosi of Syracuse in the 142-pound class.

Julian, who was originally slated to meet Wisconsin's Ev Chambers, lost a heartbreaker. The San Jose ace appeared to be bothered by his recent illness, but he still managed to put up a sparkling showing.

Sissini bloodied Voshall's nose in the first round, but the Spartan ace came back to knock his opponent down in the final round. As was expected favored Idaho State took the lead after the quarter round activity, witnessed by 5124 fans in the Wisconsin field house. Idaho State had six points. Following in order were Wisconsin 4, Michigan State 3, Syracuse, Louisiana State and Oklahoma, 2 each, Houston, San Jose State, Cal Poly, College of Idaho, Arkansas and Nevada, 1 each.

Spartan Bob Harris stroked a 147 to tie Bo Winninger of Oklahoma A&M for medalist honors in the 1947 NCAA golf championships at Ann Arbor, Mich. and returned the following year to grab the individual match play championship at Stanford.

Spikers 'Practice' In Three-Way Meet
Several Spartans including middle distance star Lang Stanley will perform just for exhibition and others will not run their regular events when San Jose State's varsity thinclads take on College of Pacific and USF tomorrow at Stockton. First events will start at 1:30 p.m.

Coach Bud Winter reports the changes are being made in order to hold the score down against the Tigers and Dons, who don't have the horses to compete with the Spartans on even terms.

Only five Dons participated in last week's meet against the Cal Aggies, while distance man Jack Marden, who has run 4:25 and 1:56 for the mile and 880 respectively, is the top COP threat.

Four Golden Raiders will be out of the meet. They are sprinter Art Hiatt, who pulled a muscle in practice Monday, broad jumper Ray Goodwin, who has been nursing a leg cramp, and 440 men Jim Hushaw and Ron Vavra.

SJS Aerial Club Cuts Flying Expenses

By JIM SIMS

Would you like to rise above the crowd? Would you like to be as free as the birds in the spring breezes? No, don't flap your arms. You'll never do it that way. All you need to do is to take flying lessons.

I can hear the groans now. "It's too expensive," you say. Well, I won't say that it is cheap because it isn't, but what is these days? Just for your information, let's list first, the expenses you will incur if you take lessons from a commercial flying school, and secondly, as a member of a flying club like San Jose State's Flying "20."

To pass the Civil Aeronautics Administration student pilot license exam, you must have had 15 hours of flying time with an instructor. This will cost you nine dollars an hour. (The groans are starting again).

You also must have had 25 hours of solo time. This costs six dollars an hour. (It's getting cheaper.) This adds up to a total of $285 for the lessons. Better make it $300. The extra $15 will cover the cost of repairing the hole you made in the fuselage with your foot, clumsy.

As a member of the Flying "20" Club your expenses are cut

Campus Protestant Groups Will Meet

All Protestant campus religious groups will meet Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Congregational Church, corner of Hamilton and Lee streets, for a program under the auspices of the Student Christian Council, the Rev. Mr. Richard Ingraham said today.

considerably. The club is run somewhat like a corporation. When you join you pay $75. This means that you own $75 worth of the club's two aircraft, a Luscombe and a Taylorcraft. If you quit the club, you can't take $75 worth of the aircraft, but you can sell your stock to a new member.

Lessons cost about $5.85 per hour. Your 15 hours of dual flying lessons will set you back $87.75. After that you should be flying solo.

When you finally have accumulated 40 hours of flight time you may apply for a private pilot's license. A CAA official will give you a written test and then a flight test.

Now that you have a license you can fly to the various resorts in California that specialize in caring for weekend flyers. The Wonder Valley Dude Ranch near Fresno is one such resort. It has guest cottages, lodge and swimming pool. It has a 2000 foot runway and complete facilities for

Roast Elephant Part of Paleolithic Man's Diet

BALTIMORE, Md. — (UP)—A Johns Hopkins University professor reports evidence that man roasted and ate elephants on Santa Rosa Island, 30 miles off the coast of California—29,000 years ago.

Dr. George F. Carter said archeologists formerly believed early man was not in the region when the dwarf mammoth roamed Santa Rosa. It was thought that man's presence in the area dated back only about 6,800 years.

Carter and Philip C. Orr, curator of anthropology at the Santa Barbara Museum of Natural History, discovered burned elephant bones in what was believed to be a man-made fire pit. Carbon 14 tests completed on the bones at Columbia University recently indicated the prehistoric beasts were roasted in primeval camp fires 29,650 years ago.

Carter said he learned during his research that many persons were surprised that elephants were edible.

A program for foreign students and their sponsors is being planned by the ISO club to be held a week from today in the Student Union. Time for the affair is 7:30 p.m.

Included in the program will be panel discussions, student entertainment, a colored film and refreshments. Hawaiian and Samoan dances also will be presented.

Home Ec Display Suggests Favors For Holiday Meals

Holiday dinners can be made more attractive and interesting with table or tray favors, according to the Home Economics Department. The current display in the show case on the second floor of the home economics building features an exaggerated calendar depicting eight holidays during the year and the appropriate favor for the corresponding holiday.

The display was done by Miss Joy Wilson as part of the curriculum in the class entitled, "Methods of Teaching Home Economics." Miss Wilson is a senior dietetics major, and in keeping with her major, she chose tray favors as her theme, transferring the idea to the level of the seventh grade.

The case is planned for the comprehension of the junior high school student and is entitled, "Festive Favors."
